Lectures.

Rev. Walter R. Lambuth will preach at the Methodist Church in this city to-morrow (Sunday) at 10 A. M. Dr. Lambuth is at present a member of the Tennessee Conference. He was born in China, where his parents have been laboring for many years in the missionary cause. He returned to this country some years ago to attend school, and now, having finished his literary and medical studies, he will return soon to his life-work in that far off and benighted land.

He will lecture on the Chinese, their manners and customs, exhibit some scenes by the aid of an instrument and otherwise instruct and entertain those who come to hear him at the following times and places: At the Methodist Church, New Providence, Monday, July 21, 8 P. M.; South Clarksville, Tuesday, July 22, 8 P. M.; Clarksville, Wednesday, July 23, 8 P. M.; An admission fee of 10 cents for children under 15 and 25 cents for adults will be charged at the door, the proceeds to meet the expenses of his voyage to China in September next. The public are invited, and we hope he will be encouraged by a large attendance.

CHANCERY COURT will be opened next Monday by Chancellor Linton, and we learn that the case of the Tennessee Orphan Asylum will be brought before the court and will probably be disposed of. The property is to be sold and we understand there are many petitions out for the disposal of the proceeds, among which is one for the erection of a High School building. By adding to the proceeds of the sale what other means may be commanded, a sufficient amount can, no doubt, be raised to build the institution. By the building-up of a High School the ward schools will be done away with and the whole combined into one institution, which will be of far less trouble and expense than the present system of public schools. This would hardly interfere with the institutions of learning already in our midst, and our citizens should therefore welcome it gladly and endeavor to make it a school where parents could place their children with every confidence that they would receive a thorough and extended course of instruction.

CAPT. R. L. COBB, Civil and Mining Engineer, and lady of Memphis, Tenn., are visiting the city, the guests of Dr. Cobb and others. Capt. Cobb has just returned from an examining tour sent out by the board of directors of the Santa Gertrudis mining company, of Nashville. These mines are located in the valley of Santa Rosa, Mexico; one hundred miles from the United States frontier town Fort Duncan, or Eagle Pass. We have been kindly furnished the report of the committee and that of Capt. Cobb and will have more to say of the enterprise in the future.

THE ice cream festival and fair given by the ladies of the Spring Creek Church, is spoken of by those in attendance as the most enjoyable character. It could not have been otherwise than a most pleasant entertainment, when it is remembered that it was the effort of the ladies in behalf of their Church and Sunday School. Financially the success reflects credit upon the liberality of the gentlemen in attendance.

MESSRS. JNO. F. COATS & SON have opened next door to their former saloon, a room for the display of musical instruments, chronos and other beauties in their line. The room is pleasant and cool, and rendered attractive by the handsome display and taste in its arrangement. It affords an agreeable retreat for ladies and gentlemen who are admirers of beauty.

We call attention to the new advertisement in this week's issue of Samuel Hodgson, dealer in musical instruments and pianos. Those desiring to purchase instruments need not send East when they can be bought of him at cheaper prices, and remember that he guarantees satisfaction.

MR. W. M. JONES, for several years of the Singer Sewing Machine Company at this place, but more recently of Baltimore, left this city on Tuesday last to return here, where he will remain permanently and will establish a general sewing machine agency. His friends will cordially welcome him home.

L. F. KIMBROUGH, Esq., book-keeper of the First National Bank, is on furlough, and will visit his Eastern relatives of pleasure. He will return about the middle of July, accompanied by his wife and Miss Kennedy, who are stopping at Providence, R. I., having preceded Mr. Kimbrough in their tour.

The following are the officers elect of John Young Encampment, I.O.O.F., for the present term: D. G. Hattler, C. P.; J. S. Lay, H. P.; R. W. Jett, S. W.; B. M. Barksdale, Sec'y; S. O. Hatcher, Treas.; C. C. Atkinson, J. W.

A VERY pleasant gathering took place at the school-house of Mrs. C. D. Burgess, in New Providence, on Monday night last, complimentary to Miss Kate Cabaniss, the accomplished daughter of Judge Cabaniss of Jackson, Miss., and niece of Dr. Cabaniss, of this city, and Mr. Herbert (Sing) Hambaugh, who has just returned from Vanderbilt University, Nashville. Dancing was the order of the evening, and all enjoyed themselves until 11 o'clock, when an intermission was taken to partake of an elegant supper, after which dancing was resumed and continued until a late hour. It was an enjoyable affair, and one long to be remembered by all who participated in the festivities.

PHILIP LIEBER has a new advertisement in to-day's paper. Read it.

Our Acknowledgments.

We must express our sense of obligation warmly though briefly to many whose exertions contributed to the highly satisfactory reception of our visitors of last week. Of our own exertions, humble as they were, and of those of our conferees in the profession, Messrs. Ingram and Riley, we say nothing; we were simply doing our own work, which naturally devolved upon us as representatives of the press in this city. It is to those outside of the typographic fraternity, who took up the matter as if it were their own, that we now make our bows of acknowledgment. And before all others we are thankful to the Hon. C. G. Smith, chairman of the committee of general arrangements. We were more than once led to despair of the matter getting started at all but for his resolute and cheery determination that it should be a success, and that there was to be no doubt anywhere of the result.

With that committee Capt. J. J. Crumman was in constant communication; he was chairman of the committee on the entertainment at the Southern Hotel, and energetic as he is as a business man, we firmly believe he never worked as sedulously at making his own fortunes as he did at bringing arrangements to a happy termination in our festive halls.

By no means behind him in unwearying perseverance and intelligent management were Messrs. Kropp and the young ladies Society of the Presbyterian church. To appreciate their efforts it was only necessary to inspect the old Southern Hotel before and after they had worked their will upon it—it was transformed as by magic from a desolate ruin to a palace of delights.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bringhurst, of the Franklin House, here come in for their share of the credit. It is true that they undertook it by contract as a matter of business, but their lavish provision of dainties and unwearying activity in seeing every one served showed them to be much more eager to do credit to the occasion than to make profit for themselves. The valuable service rendered by Mr. James Hentz, in the distribution of the fluid elements of hilarity must not pass unnoticed.

Mr. Ingram, of the Tobacco Store, undertook the duties of the finance committee which gave him plenty to do on all other committees, for where is it that money does not enter into the transactions of man, whether in business or in pleasure? He was everywhere and did good service wherever he was.

Mr. Polk Johnson attended to whatever related to chariots and horses, to the conveyance of visitors from the depot to the quarters assigned them, and to the excursion of Friday afternoon. His exertions were unobtrusive and little heard of, but the smoothness with which it all worked was the complete evidence of his efficiency.

The duty assigned Riley and ourselves was that of providing quarters for the visitors and meeting them at the depot to conduct them there. The former part of that duty was much facilitated by the willing hospitality of our citizens, and the latter by the co-operation of a number of young gentlemen, Messrs. West, Birney, Randolph, Rhodes, Campbell and others; whose ready presence wherever they were wanted almost amounted to ubiquity.

So far have we mentioned only the chairman of committees and are conscious that a great deal of good work thereby remains unrecorded; but we cannot omit the cheerful and active co-operation of Sam. Caldwell, Esq., who was on many committees though chairman of none, in none of them was he behind any one in activity, and at the banquet he was invaluable.

Lastly, the tact and zeal of Baker and Polk Johnson and their corps of floor managers, were crowned with the success of the best conducted ball we ever witnessed. Many thanks and our best bow to all.

Personal.

We have no word, so far, recorded the presence of Commodore Doak in Clarksville during the session of the Association; the truth is, we are not sure that he ever came to this city, and if he did, he was not in the city at the time of the session of the association; he has been hospitably cared for at the residence of Mrs. R. Moore.

Lieut. R. D. Read, U. S. A., having completed his course at West Point, and obtained his commission in the cavalry service, is spending a furlough among his friends here previous to being assigned to duty on the Texas frontier; our young soldier is looking well and in high spirits, and we do not but that he will be an ornament to his profession.

It is with much regret we have to announce that serious decease has been detected in the Post Office at Dover, Tenn. The Postmaster there is Major J. P. Flood, editor of the Dover Record and an officer of the Federal army during the war. A commission from the Post-office Department arrived at Dover and took possession of the office, while Major Flood was in attendance on the Press Association in this city.

JNO. P. MANSON, our popular Deputy Sheriff, of district No. 2, is having erected and will soon have completed a residence of most beautiful design and finish. What say you to a "house warming" and the "light fantastic," Mr. Manson?

MR. L. G. WOOD and lady, nee Miss Huldah Warfield of Memphis, arrived in this city on Monday evening. Mrs. Wood is the guest of her mother, with whom and her many friends she will spend the summer.

As you failed to receive my first communication in time for last issue, and will put that and the present one in at once, so I will not trespass further upon your space.

In the meantime, however, you can inform invalids and pleasure-

BON AQUA SPRINGS.

The season at this delightful watering place has fully opened. The beautiful and romantic locality, the health-giving virtues of its waters, and the excellent accommodations to be found here, are attracting visitors from every direction, and the indefatigable manager, W. B. Russell, and his energetic assistant, Mr. Winborne, anticipate the largest concourse of visitors this season than at any former one since they took control. Nature has done a great work in this locality, the springs and surroundings being beautiful and inviting without the aid of art. I deem a description superfluous, as I gave a somewhat lengthy description of it last season. Since my arrival the managers have been constantly at work renovating and making additions to the buildings and grounds, and they now have everything in readiness to please and fully accommodate all who may come. I can truthfully say to the people of our section that they will find everything here to minister to their comfort and enjoyment. The air is pure and invigorating, the nights cool and conducive to refreshing repose. Lovers of amusement will find here nearly every arrangement to be found at northern resorts.

In addition to the fixtures of last season, Mr. J. W. McDowell, an intelligent, genial gentleman, who resides here, has formed a lake just to the left of the lake for boating purposes, and is stocking it with trout, and thus, ere long, excellent fishing, in sight of the springs, will be provided for visitors.

A large frame church is in course of erection about three hundred yards from the springs. The upper room of this building will be used for school purposes, which will be presided over by Rev. Mr. Armstrong, a zealous christian gentleman and an accomplished scholar, who will endeavor to build up a superior school at this point. He is teaching a number of pupils, at present, in one of the cottages near the springs. Young gentlemen or ladies wishing to attend the springs and pursue or review their studies, have an excellent opportunity afforded them.

We attended the Sabbath School here, last Sabbath, conducted by Mr. McDowell and Mr. Jo. Weems. It is well managed and has, on an average, about forty pupils.

Col. Seldon and family, of Memphis, room close by and dine at the same table. They are refined, intelligent and very social, affording us much pleasure in their company. I have for a room-mate a kind, intelligent christian gentleman, Mr. Senter, of Trenton, Tenn.; thus you see, I am happily situated although my affliction still clings to me.

I have briefly given you the main features of things hereabouts. Will write again soon. June 21st, 1877.

The time having come for me to return to my Iowa home, I wish through the columns of the CHRONICLE to return my most hearty thanks to many friends and the citizens of Clarksville for their many acts of kindness. Coming among you as a comparative stranger, knowing but few of your citizens, and only with the view of recreation and spending the winter away from the frigid climate of my own State, I have been more kindly received and more hospitably entertained than I could possibly have expected.

A rapidly increasing practice has compelled me to remain among you beyond the time I had set for returning home, and now in taking my departure from Clarksville I do so with the utmost regret.

Since my sojourn with you I have formed many attachments and found new friends, from whom I part with the greatest reluctance and with the hope that we may soon meet again. To the afflicted I wish to say that under their treatment and those wishing to be treated will receive attention from Drs. Beaumont and Larkin, as I have instructed them in my special method of treating piles, fistula, etc. Call on them the same as if I were here and you will receive every attention you would receive from me.

Persons wishing to correspond with me can do so by directing their letters to Ottumwa, Iowa, where I will receive them and promptly answer.

Hoping to meet you again, I remain, your humble servant,
P. D. WINSTON, M. D.
Clarksville, Tenn., June 29th, '77.

SOME fifty or more years ago a poor old woman in Ireland had her son, a young man, who was married by her landlord. Her name was Mollie Maguire, and she died of grief and exposure. Thereupon her son and some neighbor lads formed themselves into a secret band, and vowed and took fierce revenge on Irish landlords in general. The band spread rapidly, and they called themselves the "Mollie Maguires," and Irish coal miners brought the name to America.

Reminiscing at the Clarksville, Tenn., Post Office, Saturday, June 30, 1877. If not called for in thirty days, will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

seekers that Bon Aqua is unsurpassed—let them pack up and come right along, and when here amid cooling shades, bracing air, good society and every necessary comfort, they will almost forget that the heated term is upon us.

I will add that in the person of Rufus Wilkes, a fine looking, intelligent colored gentleman, from Columbia, we have a porter and barber who is not excelled in the South. More anon. J. A. G.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

EDITORS CHRONICLE—I notice in your last issue, in the tobacco sales, a statement that the crop of tobacco sold by Messrs. Kendrick, Hambaugh & Co. for Henry Dycus was the highest average of any crop sold on this market this season. I beg leave to correct you. If there is any credit or honor to a planter who obtains the biggest prices for his crop, let it be bestowed where it belongs. I state that the crop of John Chas. sold by the Grange House, making an average of $13.77, is the highest average of any crop sold on this market. This crop consisted of six hogheads, and sold as follows: $16.00, 15.00, 15.75, 15.00, 15.00 and 4.90. The crop of Mr. Dycus referred to averaged some $10.00 between 10 and 11c. Various crops sold by the Grange House have beat any sales I know that have been made, except the Chas. crop referred to. Among them, W. H. Mason, of Logan county, Ky., whole crop averaged nearly 13c. A. J. Traub's, of Logan county, Ky., about 13c., and others at nearly these figures. FAIR PLAY.

WAR has been declared against the horn-worm by Messrs. M. H. Clark & Bro., and the farmers will do well to give them their co-operation, and thereby secure not only the handsome prizes offered by the killing of the tobacco flies for the above-named gentlemen, but also save themselves much trouble and expense. It is much easier to kill a few flies than to pick off thousands of worms from the tobacco plants. We ask the farmers to read the declaration of war, and we are sure they will enter the lists and become candidates for the prize offered; and not only that, but they will also feel thankful to Messrs. Clark & Bro. for the interest they have displayed in this matter.

A MULE ran away with a spring wagon last Monday, and came very nearly being a serious affair with M. A. D. Jackson, his wife and child, who were in the wagon. Some portion of the harness broke as he was going down Union street and the mule ran off, upsetting the vehicle, but fortunately no one was seriously hurt.
